Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: Discussed potential withdrawal of 101 rejections upon removal of lines in paragraphs 193, 196, to exclude non-statutory categories of invention relating to processor readable media. Regarding claim 13, "prefix caching" as taught by Lee in paragraph 92 was reiterated. Regarding claim 25, "requesting a target multicast media-stream transmission" was discussed with respect to Lee; Lee potentially teaches only requesting a video and not specifying multicast, which might necessitate reconsideration of the 102 rejection. Further discussed generally what or who is requesting multicast, and the application of the invention which is a fast channel change, not necessarily VOD which is an application of Lee .
